

Favorite American Detectives I

American authors and stories dominate the mystery scene. Martin H. Greenberg, the contemporary "Dean of Anthologies," and editor of over 50 mystery story collections in print, and Rosalind M. Greenberg here team up with Dercum Audio to produce an unprecedented collection of contemporary mystery fiction. Their choices include such favorites as By the Dawn's Early Light by Lawrence Sanders; The Leopold Locked Room by Edward D. Hoch; I'm In the Book by Loren D. Estleman; The Good Samaritan by Isaac Asimov; The Man Who Shot Lewis Vance by Stuart Kaminsky.
